beautiful. The cestumes were rich and striking, and in this regard the opera was worthy of our noblest and best of American prima dennas.

In Washington Miss Kellogg is in the very heart of her American home. Here she is honored, esteemed, beloved. It was here she preceived—amidst the grandest and most imposing scenes ever witnessed in an American theatre, and in the presence of the President, the highest officials of our Government, the King of a foreign nation and the Ambassadors of the great Powers of the civil itsed world—her coronation as the Queen of the Lyric Stage. From Washington she will carry the benediction of a united city, and the day of her early return will be halled with joy.

It was also proved that on the day of the alleged harceny a little sen of the defendant tried to get a site bill changed at the store of Mr. Leech. The defense contradicted Baker in many important points, and contended that his statements were wholly unreliable. During the trial the defend-ment manifested much grid and mortification.

HIGHWAY ROBBERY. A Well-known Citizen Robbed of his Watch and Chain. Tuesday evening, about 8:30 o'clock, Mr. John P. Dennis was robbed of his watch, a locket and part of his chain, in an alley near Wesley Chapel, by a colored man. The case was reported at po-lice headquarters, and yesterday morning Detectives Sargent and McElfresh arrested Jackson hullock on the charge of committing the roc-bery, and he was identified by Mr. Bennis. It seems that a short time previous ber, and he was identified by Mr. Bennis. Itseems that a short time previous to the committing of the act Mr. Bennis was at the Woodbine house. On the side-walk he met Josh Parker, a colored bailiff of the curri, and the accused. The two former drank together, and then Mr. Bennis started for home—the bailiff asping that he bad a jury to attend to, and went to the City Hall. Mr. Dennis crossed Louisiana avenue and Fifth street, and Parker noticed Johnson Ballock going in the same direction, but gave the matter at the time little thought. Mr. Dennis reached the alley near the church; he stopped a minute and was evertaken by the colored man, who opened a conversation with him, during which he asked the losn of a pen-knile. Mr. Dennis accommodated him, and no sooner was the knile in his possession than he made a travat at Mr. Dennis' watch-chain, severing the links and seized the end to which the watch was attached, jarked it from the pocket, and ran off. The 'electives arrested him at his place of service, and he is held for a hearing. DISTRICT NOTES.

THE ORTHOGRAPHISTS.

Another Battle at the Unitarian Church. The orthographists met again last evening at The orthographists met again inst evening at the Unitarian church, corner of Sixth and D streets. Mrs. George W. Wright performed the duties of school mistress, and Messrs. J. W. Babe and W. D. Dana assumed the responsibility of referees. The spellers were all volunteers from the audience. Farther first coniest were arranged eight on each side. After a few blunders like "hair-lip." "creal." "apurtenance," "felm" for "tain," "mustrass," "sysochure," "filebuster." "tawest," "spiggot," "slight" for "sleight," "fete" for "feat" and "filegiolous," the board was swept clean with the exception of Prof. M. H. Deolfttle. His last opponent was Master Edward H. Ldnville, a pupil of Mr. Wight's school, who distinguished himself by his fine spelling, irriprisg up finally on "flagicious."

Before the second contest was organized, Mrs. Hert and Miss Anna Hopperion entertained the audience with some finely-rendered recitations. About half a down tenseious school-boys then took the front seats and challenged the field, and the young ladies in particular. As the required number of young ladies did not volunter, two gentlemen and a few old and middle.aged ladies were pressed into service. "Assume," "sattirize," "epitomise," "tryssyllable," "conniverous," "belluster," "umbragious," "phisage" and "philiple" entirely demolished the rash boys, and all but two on the other side. Professor Doolistie said "freecoes," and left Mrs. S. P. Brown and Mr. Egbert Weaver, the Unitarian church, corper of Sixth and D and all but two on the other side. Professor Doo-little said "freecoes," and left Mrs. S. P. Srown victor. Mrs. S. P. Brown and Mr. Egbert Weaver, the last speller on the vanquished side, were then presented each with a six inch parchment medal, which concluded the entertainment.

DEATH BY DROWNING.

A Mysterious and Poculiar Case. one of those sad cases of drowning which occa enally startle the community and admoniah those who are in the habit, either for pleasure or business, of spending a portion of their time on the water to be more careful, occurred on Tuesday night, and resulted in the death of Mr. Edward P. Williams, a plate-printer in the Treasury Department. The facts in the case are about as follows: On the night mentioned a party of the Washington Yacht Club assembled on board their boat, the Elia Treadwell, which is anchored off the Eleventh-street wharf, as is their outsion during the spring and summer evenings, for the purpose of enjoying a social chat. Some of the party expressed a wish to go on shore, when the small boat was got in readiness, and Mr. Williams rowed them to the wharf.

After landing he returned to the yacht, when another party requested to be put on terra firma, but not being quite reasty Mr. Williams commenced bailing out some water from the bottom of the boat, while the party on the deek of the Tredwell re-entered the cabin. When they again emerged from there the boat and man were nowhere to be seen, but this did not business, of spending a portion of their time on as they thought Williams had become tired of waiting, rowed himself on shore, and gone home. I his impression prevailed in their minds until yesterday morning, when, Mr. Williams falling to put in an appearance at the Treasury Department, a messeager was dispatched to his home, who came back with the information that he had not been there since Treasday morning. This made his companions of the night before uneasy, and search was instituted for the missing man. About 1 o'clock yesterday his body was found touting in the water near Sixth-street wharf, and in cless proximity to it was the boat.

It is supposed that while in the act of bailing, the water being very rough at the time, that he must have lost his balance and foil overboard, and not being able to swim was soon drowned. However, that will always remain a mystery, for none but the All-seeing eye witnessed his death-struggle. When it became known that the EXCITE ANY ALARM, BODY HAD BEEN RECOVERED a number of the plate-printers repaired to the wharf, and had it removed to the undertaking establishment of Mr. Anthony Buchly, No. 912 Pennsylvania avenue, and the coroner was notined, but when that officer heard the statement of those who had any knowledge of the affair he decided that an inquest was unnecessary. Shortly after dark the body was removed from Mr. Buchly's to the home of his sorrowing relatives, No. 72h Eighth street southeast, directly opposite the centre-house or headquarters of the Marine corps. When it arrived the wife, children, mother and father-in-law of the deceased gathered about the corpse, and in most pitcous, heart-rending cree, gave vent to grief such as only a family so terribly stricken can feel.

was born in the State of Delaware in 1840, but his family moved to Philadelphia before he was a year old. During the second year of the war he joined one of the nine months' regiments of Penasylvania volunteers, and after serving out the period of his enlistment he obtained a position in the bureau of printing and engraving, where he has since been employed. About ten years ago he married Miss Lizuie Williams, of East Washington, who survives him with three calidron—two buys, aged respectively nine and seven years, and a little girl about sixteen months old. He was a member of Naval Lodge, No. 4, F. A. A. M.; Washington Naval Royal Arch Chapter, No. 6; Columbia Commandery, No. 2, Knights Templar, and the Masonic Relief Association. There are few who knew "Ned Williams," as he was familiarly known, who did not like him. Quiet, inoffensive and gentlemanly in his bearing and generous to a fault, many who have enjoyed the pleasure of his acquaintance for years past will be pleasure of his acquaintance for years past will be grieved to hear of his untimely end.

TERRIBLE ACCIDENT.

A Young Lady Probably Fatally Burned. Miss Annie Lighter, aged about seventeen years, daughter of Rev. John T. Lighter, living on Sixth street, between B and C streets north east, was severely and perhaps fatally burned about 4 o'clock yesterday afternoon. It appears that her father was absent from the ity, her mother at the Waugh chapel at a class city, her mother at the waugh chapel at a class meeting, and Miss Lighter was alone in the house, except a small child. She was frying beef-steak on a stove, and in attempting to turn the steak the fat ignited, and, spiashing upon her apron, set it on fire. She snatched the apron off, but before she could remove it her dress took fire. She had the presence of mind to throw herself upon a feather bed, thinking thus to smother the same but in this she was unaccessful, the head finmes, but in this she was unsucce taking fire. She then rushed through the parlo taking fire. She then rushed through the partor, ecreaming for help, and attempted to roll herself in a carpet. No person heard her crice, and falling to check the fiames, she rushed out upon the streets, and in the direction of Connolley's stable, on the opposite side of the street, when a man at ESVELOPED IN FLAME, caught up a buffalo robe, rushed to her, and wrapping it about her put out the fire; but not until the frost pertion of her dress was consumed and her person terribly burned. He carried her se charged to the practice games. Let there be a good attendance at each game. Further particulars to morrow.

NO MURDER. How the Authorities Were Sold. Yesterday morning Major Richards, superin tendent of police, received word through Lieut. Noonan, of the Second precipct, that a reporamong the gipsy bands that were encamped on the Bladensburg road, near Mt. Olivet cemetery, and it was also rumored that in the melee a woman had been killed by her husband. The woman had been killed by her husband. The superintendent does not genrally attach much inith to statements of this nature, but thinking that the source from which the lieutenant had received the information might be reliable, he concluded to personally investigate the matter. Accompanied by Detectives Coomes and MeDevitt, they proceeded to the camp, and found that the terrible quarrel and fight had dwindled down to a word battle between a gipsy, named Hamson, and his wite, in which he had administered a couple of slaps on her check and then left the place. If the individual, whose fertile imagination wrought out such a horrible result from tere a couple of stage on her cheek and then left the place. If the individual, whose fertile imag-ination wrought out such a horrible result from so triding a foundation had been lurking in the vicinity about that time, he would have discov-ered three officers who die not entertain much re-gard for his truthfulners, and would not have been long in limparting that information to him. It was rough on the detectives who came that distance, hungry for a good case, and found it simmered into a single assault. It is said that there are three bands of gipsies squatted on those grounds, who, within a day or two past, moved to this point from near Alexandria, bringing with them considerable money and jewelry obtained by pretending to tell the fortunes of people who chose to be duped.

THE FIRE DEPARTMENT.

Meeting of the Board of Commissioners-A regular meeting of the Board of Fire Com missioners was held last night, Present: Joseph Williams, Col. James A. Talt, Col. Thos. P. Morgan, W. B. Reed, William R. Collins, Chief En-gan, W. B. Reed, William R. Collins, Chief Engineer Cronin and Assistant Chief Drew.

An application was received from John Wanstall for the position of veterinary surgeon to the department. Referred to the chief and assistant chief engineers.

Mr. Morgan called the attention of the board to the necessity of enlarging the outlets of the fire-pluga from nine inches to ten, and also of increasing the number. He also spoke of the necessity of some action being taken regarding the sale of coal-oil, which was the cause of so many of the alarms of fire by the explosion of this fluid. He thought some regulations should be made regarding this oil. He alse called the attention of the beard to the large numbers of oil buildings in Washington of a combustible nature, and expressed himself to the effect that the owners should be compelled to remove them. The subject was ordered to be embodied in the forthcoming annual report of the board to the District Commissioners. The board then adjourned.

BRICKMAKERS' STRIKE.

A Threatened Labor Riot Checked. Tuesday afternoon the men employed at the brickyards on South Capitel and O streets de eided to strike for higher wages. The bosses did not appear annoyed by their action, and immediately employed a new set of hands to go to work yesterday merning. The strikers, as is their custom, not being disposed to work themtheir custom, not being disposed to work themselves, determined to unite and, if possible, prevent the new hands from starting in. Accordingly they assembled in large numbers, and by their threats intimidated the new hands from commencing work. Information of the fact was sent to Licutebant Austin, of the Eighth precinct, and the danger of an impending riot. This efficient officer immediately dispatched a squad of police to the scene to preserve erder. The erowd increased in numbers, and commenced to use threatching words, when the police were ordered to disperse them, which resulted in the new set of hands joining the strikers, and all left the ground together. Considerable excitement was created in the neighborhood among the colored hands.

Beath of Hon. Silas H. Hodges-Funeral This

Afternoon. The funeral of the late Hop. Silas H. Hodges, who died on Tuesday night isst, will take place this afternoon, when the remains will be sent to New York for interment. A beautiful casket, prepared by Harvey, will receive the body after its removal from ice, and the employees of the its removal from ice, and the employees of the Patent Office will attend the services at the house. Deceased was a lawyer by profession and a native of Vermont, and succeeded Hon. Thomas Eubank as Commissioner of Patents on November 8, 1852, the commission which he received, strange to say, having been really intended for one Samuel H. Hodges, but sent to the deceased by mistake. Upon President Pierce's accession in March, 1853, he resigned and returned to Vermont, from whence he was appointed in April, 1861, a member of the hoard of examiner-in-chief, the position he held at the time of his decease.

Hop. R. T. Merrick was called to the chair, and John F. Hanna appointed secretary. On motion, the following gentlemen were appointed a committee to prepare appropriate resolutions: W. B. Webb, R. K. Elliott, W. S. Edwards, Wm. J. Mattingly and W. Wilson. After a short absence the committee returned and reported the following resolutions:

**Resolved, That the bar of the District of Columbia, deeply sensible of the less it has sustained by the death of Robert Leech, one of its most distinguished members, whose integrity, ability and learning, so long recognized by the profession, ranked him among its foremest and brightest intellects, do, in profound sorrow for his character, and our common grief in consequence of his death, we but do his memory.

**Resolve**, That in expressing our admiration of his character, and our common grief in consequence of his death, we but do his memory that which his fame and unsuitled life justified and which his professional brethron will recognize as both truthful and just.

**Resolved**, That the members of this bar attend the funeral of our deceased brother in a body tomorrow (Thureday) afternoon, and wear the usual badge of mourning for thirty days.

**Mr. Webb, in reporting the resolutions, said he felt it difficult to express even in his carnest manner one to whom the bar was so much attached. Grief was hushed in the presence of the appalling incident. None could realize that his friendly smille had passed forevermore. He spoke highly of the attainments of Judge Leech. Faithful in all he undertook to do, honest, true, just, he filled to the utmost his official position, and behind him he left an honorable record. He was in private life a good father, a faithful husband and a true friend.

To these three medicines Dr. J. H. Schenck, of Philadelphia, owes his unrivalled success in the treatment of pulmonary diseases.

The Pulmonic Syrup ripens the morbid matter in the lungs; nature throws it off by an easy expectoration, for when the philegm or matter is ripe a slight cough will throw it off, the patient has rest and the lungs begin to heal.

To enable the Pulmonic Syrup to do this, Schenck's Mandrake Pills and Schenck's Sawweed Tonic must be freely used to cleanse the stomach and liver. Schenck's Mandrake Pills and Schenck's Sea-Weed Tonic must be freely used to cleanse the stomach and liver. Schenck's Mandrake Pills and Schenck's Sea-Weed Tonic is a gentle stimulant and alterative; the alikali of which it is composed mixes with the food and prevents souring. A SURE CURE for this distressing complaint now made known in a Treatise (of 45 octavo pages) on Foreign and Native Herbal Preparations, pub-lished by Dr. O. PHELES BROWN. The prescription overed by him in such a providential man was discovered by him in such a providential man-ber that he cannot conscientiously refuse to make it known, as it has cured everybody who has used it for Fits, never having failed in a single case. The ingredients may be obtained from any drug gist. A copy sent free to all applicants by mal-Address DR. U. PHELI'S BRUWN, 21 Gran-street, Jersey City, N. J. SENECA STONE.

this will be the last visit of Ristori to Washington. She is on a grand farewell tour around the world, and her career in the United States will end at San Francisco. Thence she goes to New Zealand and Australia, to Tokto, Pekin, Madras, Calcutta and Bombay, thus "putting a girdle round the earth." It is especially desirable that all theatre-goers who have never seen Ristori, particularly the younger portion, should improve this opportunity. The great dramatic lessons she will teach will be well worth the price they will cost. Lucretia Borgia is thought by some to be her best role; if we were unable to see her only once, we should select the "Marie Antoinette" night, and yet the "Elizabeth" one may be equally agreeable and instructive.

the plot is sufficiently intricate to interest feeling in the fate of the dramalis personal. The slaughter of Indians will be immense in the piece, and the blood of the red men will be shed in sufficient quantities to float the stage. The heroes of the piece are well worth seeing. They are genuine secuts and rangers of the plains, and in actual fights with Indians and wild beasts have fitted themselves for most effective litustrations of "Life on the Border." Jackson, by a committee repre-senting the citizens of Tennessee, and which is one of the most unique, and at the same time in-tricate pieces of workmanship that the writer has seen for many a day. It is of the finest hickory wood, and was taken from a tree in the front gar-den of Gen. Jackson's plantation, the "Hermi-tage," a short distans from Nashville, Tenn. The top is surmounted with a cap of selid silver, upon which is engraved the names of all the Presidents of this country, from 1776 to 1841, commencing with John Hancock, the first President really, and ending with John Tyler. Each of the prongs or knots is tipped with silver, upon which is en-graved the names of the donors. There is also a whistle made in one of the knots, which was used by Gen. Jackson in calling his hounds. Upon the side is engraved the following beautiful lines: "And may at last my weary age WOOD AND COAL,
